Do You Have a Great Video?

We are looking for a top notch video of your child or your child's team that we can show at the I Kare for Youth Breakfast in March. Check through your archives and, if your video is chosen as the best, you will receive a free day at Mount Kare.

We Are Proud of You

Here at Kare Youth League, we often hear about the difference one of our Rio Hondo Prep HS students made while assisting with one of our many teams. Recently, after a football game with Calvary Murrieta, we received this note from their head coach:

Hello Coach Drain,

I want to thank you for hosting us last Friday night. Your players are an amazing bunch of kids besides being very well coached. When my players talked about your guys after the game they kept saying how encouraging and nice each guy was. I noticed before we played you, while watching film, how many times your guys reached down to help up a guy they had just flat backed. I even mentioned it to my staff as it was so obvious on film. You are an amazing Football coach as everyone knows by your record. I just wanted to tell you how impressed we all were at the character that you so obviously instill in your guys also. The score could have been much more lopsided and I appreciate that you made sure it wasn't. It was a joy to be on the other side of the field and witness a great team during and after each play. Tell your guys that they made an incredible impact on all my players. I believe their impact will change some of our players for the rest of their football careers. We pray the rest of your season will continue to be blessed.

Coaching Staff (Calvary Murrieta)

We hope the coach's note will encourage our boys to continue to play hard with character and respect. We wouldn't want it any other way.

Henry Shoemaker, the War with Mexico, and In-n-Out

Paraphrased from the book 109 Forgotten American Heroes

Henry Shoemaker was a farm worker living in Indiana. On Election Day in 1842, Henry almost forgot to vote. But, he'd promised a man named Madison Marsh that he would vote for him for State Representative, so, instead of taking the lazy route, Henry cast his vote, and as it turns out, Marsh won by one single vote. Back then, State Representatives chose U.S. Senators, so in January of 1843, Marsh voted for Edward Hannegan. Hannegan won by, you guessed it, one single vote.

Fast forward to 1846 and the U.S. Senate is debating whether or not to go to war with Mexico. The senators vote and Hannegan's vote is the deciding one: War. The United States won a great deal of land in that war. In fact, were it not for our victory, we probably wouldn't have a California, Nevada, or Utah (not to mention parts of Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, and Wyoming!).

Fast forward again to 1947 and the home of Esther and Harry Snyder where Harry shares his idea for a "Drive Through" order restaurant that sells hamburgers. By 1948 Harry opens his first In-n-Out in Baldwin Park, California and the rest is history. It might be a bit generous to say that Henry Shoemaker is the reason why we have California and ultimately the Double-Double, but he definitely did make a difference. That's why, when you turn eighteen, you must remember the importance of one single vote.
