FSU Season Openers Next Saturday

The season openers for the AA and A/AA combo team will be next Saturday, April 5. The AA's open on the road against Kentucky, while the A/AA combo team will open at home with a game against Miami.

Rosters for both teams will be published next Wednesday. The A/AA combo team will be for less experienced players; the pitching will be slower, and players will get a chance to play positions that they would not normally have a chance to play. The members of this team will combine with some of the players from the Seminole 'A' division team.

Regardless of which squad you are on, the weekday practice schedule will remain the same.
