Future Classic title decided over next two weekends

The boys Future Classic is tonight in Arcadia, but the overall winner of the Classic won't be decided until the girls wrap it up next weekend.

The competition level at the Future Classic is always high. Since Kare went to the East/West format in 1989 the East and West have won it eight times apiece and the sides have tied twice. Barring another tie the 2010 classic will put one side in the series lead...stay tuned.

The Classic is a series of games pitting combined teams from the Eastern Conference against combined teams from the West. Players earn a spot on the roster based on their attendance and on court performance through the first part of the season.

Basketball 101

Court Vision

Every time players get the ball they should quickly square up and look down the court before initiating transition. Poor court vision results in forced passes, offensive fouls, and inability to see open teammates.

Only after the player looks ahead should they put the ball on the floor - and then only to advance the ball up the floor, drive to the basket, or improve a passing angle.

When advancing the ball with a dribble, you must be able to dribble without thinking about dribbling or about the opponent who is guarding you. This will free you to see the court, ready to pass to a teammate who is open.
