

INTERLEAGUER

VOLUME 72, NUMBER 17 • JANUARY 26, 2013

COLUMN ONE

The lodge at Mount Kare is beautiful inside and out. February is “Winter Camp Month” at Kare Youth League.

Winter Camping in February

Winter Camp brochures are now available in all Kare Youth League offices. Make sure to sign up early to ensure space for your child. The health form must be filled out completely before your child can go. Also, please note that some camps will be going tubing at Mountain High and a waiver must be signed for boys and girls to participate. The AAA & Pac-12 boys have an option to go snowboarding or skiing. Both activities require an additional fee and waiver.

Pac Five – February 8-10 - $96 (Need Tube Waiver)

A & AA – February 22-24 - $96 (Need Tube Waiver)

Karenas – March 2-3 - $29 for one day & $54 for two days

AAA & Pac-12 – February 15-18 - $99 (Skiing & snowboarding is optional and costs an additional fee plus waiver)

Kare Youth League Survey

Kare Youth League conducts a yearly survey of its member families to make sure we are providing a program that meets the needs of the children and parents we serve. Over the next few weeks, Kare staff will be coming around to games to get your input. Kare uses the surveys to make improvements in the program and also to use in grant proposals to foundations that can help underwrite those improvements. You can help us greatly by taking the time to fill out your survey. Thank you.

Standings in the office

The standings for basketball will now be posted in the office at each site. Make sure you check them out each week to keep up on the latest.

The Story Few Have Heard About Abe Lincoln

(From the Paul Harvey Radio Show)

You thought you had heard all the Abe Lincoln stories but it is unlikely that you have read this one. When Abraham Lincoln was living in Washington County, he was captured by the Indians.

He was working a farm there and the Indians, angered by the fact that Abe was encroaching on their territory, captured him, and made him run between two rows of braves. As Abe ran, the braves beat him with sticks, a humiliation known as “running the gauntlet.”

Of course you know that Abe survived and was assassinated many years later. When he escaped from the Indian camp he fled to Rockingham County, perhaps because he was genuinely repentant for having settled on Indian land, or perhaps because he was just plain frightened.

At any rate, a year or two went by. The nightmare of his experience continued to haunt him, to eat away at him. The more he thought about it, the more certain he became: The land he had abandoned was his home and it had been cowardly to run away.

Abe made up his mind once and for all. He would return to Washington County, to the little farm he had left. He would claim it once again, and this time he would not forsake it. Four years passed. He split rails and planted crops and harvested them. Four years, no trouble with the Indians.

And then one day, Abe was clearing a patch of forest to open a new field. At the top of its arc, the ax blade gleamed in the brilliant sunlight. No more would he lie awake at night, fearing the wrath of the Indians. No more would he be consumed with self-doubt. Abe had finally stood up for what he believed. This land was his now, his and his wife Mary. No one was going to take it away from him.

But that day, each time Abe’s axe chunked into the side of the tree, it obscured another sound. One footstep...followed by another...and another... (continued next week)
