VOLUME 72, NUMBER 16 • JANUARY 22, 2013

COLUMN ONE

RHP football has a rich tradition in Southern California but also has experienced recent success in other sports like volleyball and basketball (both boys and girls are ranked #1 in Division 6) as well. Pictured: FSU AAA Head Coach Will Torrico was part of the 2005 championship squad.

Private School Education, Public School Type Athletics, One Close-Knit Family...RHP

It's time for parents of middle-school boys and girls to start thinking about school for next year. Let us make a suggestion to check out Rio Hondo Prep, Kare Youth League's fully accredited middle & high school, located at Kare Youth League in Arcadia. The official information meeting will be on Thursday, February 28 at 7:30 p.m. but you don't have to wait until then. The RHP office is open during school hours and can give you the information you are looking for. If you think that a private school education is financially out of your reach, give the staff at Rio Hondo Prep a chance to work it out. A positive recommendation from your child's leader is the first step.

Big Advantages at Rio Hondo Prep

Hands-on Science Program	Personal Attention
Stimulating Academic Environment	High Moral Standards
Practical Computer Skills	Musical Performances
Summer Historical Tours	Family Atmosphere
AP Courses for College Credit	Mock Trial Team
Competitive athletics and opportunities to play in multiple sports

Standings in the office

The standings for basketball will now be posted in the office at each site. Make sure you check them out each week to keep up on the latest.

Be a Friend That Not Only Supports but Challenges

Monday, the 21st is the day chosen in January this year to honor Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. for his contributions to the civil rights movement back in the 1960's. Most people are familiar with some of his speeches and the marches that inspired change in our nation. Few, however, know how close he came to not taking part. If it were not for the efforts of two men, one a very close friend, and the other someone he hardly knew, the civil rights movement might have been led by someone completely different. It all began on Thursday, December 1, 1955.

On the date in question, a black seamstress boarded a bus after work for the long ride home. Many seats were empty and she sat down in one of them. As the bus traveled along its route, the seats began to fill and when they were all full, the woman, Rosa Parks, was ordered by the bus driver to surrender her seat to a white man. When she refused, police were called and she was arrested.

A civil rights activist named E.D. Nixon posted bail for Rosa the next morning and then made a very important phone call. In an attempt to change the law, Mr. Nixon wanted to organize a bus strike but he knew he needed support from some of the local churches. The key was to get a young minister named Martin King to support it. A call was made, but Pastor King was reluctant. Undaunted, Mr. Nixon decided to call Pastor King's close friend, Ralph Abernathy, thinking he might be able to convince him.

Later that day, Pastor King called Mr. Nixon to tell him, "I'll go along with it" and the bus strike had the backing it needed. Martin Luther King, Jr. soon became a nationally recognized leader, and it all started with a shove by a mere acquaintance.

If someone like E.D. Nixon can cause such a change in someone's life that he barely knew, think about the difference you can make in the lives of those around you that you call friends. That's just something to think about this week.
