

INTERLEAGUER

VOLUME 73, NUMBER 2 • SEPTEMBER 9, 2013

COLUMN ONE

The Showcase will be here before you know it. Be aggressive selling those tickets! All Showcase proceeds go directly to the team to pay for equipment and officials all during the year.

San Dimas High School – Saturday October 5

This is just a reminder that the Showcase is less than a month away. Every Kare member has a mandatory quota (found in the office or just ask your head coach) based on grade and gender. This is one of two mandatory fundraisers that we do during the year (the other being the Circus at the end of May). Make sure to have your quota reached by Saturday, October 5.

Keep Your Head Up

It is important to keep your head up when making a tackle. This is the best way to keep your eye on the target and also the safest way to tackle. A good video can be found at <http://usafootball.com/health-safety/how-to-tackle#>. The terminology that our coaches use is different but the basic principles are the same. We do not want to teach our children to use their helmet to tackle their opponent. Their helmet is just there to protect their head. Body position and keeping your head and eyes up are the keys to making a solid and safe tackle.

Learn from a Mistake

Paul Harvey and the Rest of the Story

His name was Walter Elias, a city boy by birth, the son of a building contractor. Before Walter was five, his parents moved from Chicago to a farm in Missouri. And it was there on the farm that Walter would have his first encounter with death.

Walter was only seven that particular lazy summer afternoon that was not much different from other afternoons. Dad was tending to farm chores, Mother was in the house. It was the perfect day for a young fellow to go exploring.

Now just beyond a grove of graceful willows was an apple orchard. There Walter could make-believe to his heart's content; that he was lost, which he never was, or that he had captured a wild animal, which he never had. But today was different.

Directly in front of him, about thirty feet away, perched in the low-drooping branch of an apple tree and apparently sound asleep...was an owl. The boy froze.

He remembered his father telling him that owls rested during the day so they could hunt by night. What a wonderful pet that funny little bird would make. If only Walter could approach it without awakening it, and snatch it from the tree.

With each step, the lad winced to hear dry leaves and twigs crackle beneath his feet. The owl did not stir. Closer...and closer... and at last young Walter was standing under the limb just within range of his quarry.

Slowly he reached up with one hand and grabbed the bird by its legs. He had captured it! But the owl, waking suddenly, came alive like no other animal Walter had ever seen! In a flurry of beating wings, wild eyes and frightened cries it struggled against the boy's grasp. (Continued next week...)

Whether it's today or decades ago, the problem is still the same. When there are too many cars in the street, no one is happy.

Just a Reminder...

Please do not park your car in the streets around any Kare facility. It is very important for us to have a good relationship with our neighbors. Nobody likes a bunch of cars parked in front of their house.
