TAR HEELS SIT THE DOGS

The Tar Heels faced their giants in last Saturday's match up against the Bulldogs from Arcadia. The Heels elected to receive the ball on the coin flip and began their drive towards the goal. But those dirty Dogs held them and got the ball back. The Tar Heel defense then soared into action taking down the Dogs left and right. After holding them on 4th and 3 the Tar Heels once again took over on downs. This time Decker DeGraaf answered the call and stormed up the sideline into the endzone, giving the Heels a 6 point lead. But the Bulldogs battled back. With just seconds left in the first half they marched down the field, only to be stopped by cornerback Isaiah Gallardo with a HUGE hit. The Heels started the 2nd half on defense. Mauricio Delgado led the team with 6 tackles, followed by DeGraaf with 4, Byron Franco and Sebastian Alvarado with 3 and Gallardo with 2. Andrew Armas, David Avilez, Abram Lugo, Josh Watkins and Max Painter combined for 6 tackles. The Heels made two big drives in the second half led by Abram Lugo with a huge 22 yard run. Maddox Lozano picked up 8 yards, Gallardo had 10, Delgado ran for 4, Avilez found daylight for 15 yards and DeGraaf picked up 18 on the day. The Heels awesome blocking brigade comprised of Triston Arola, Antonio Astorga, Jake Godinez, Thomas Valenzuela and Josh Watkins helped secure the 6-0 victory over the Bulldogs by punching huge holes in the lines for the Tar Heel runners. Great job boys! Let's beat the Falcons this week!
