VOLUME 73, NUMBER 23 • MARCH 3, 2014

COLUMN ONE

This is a “Can’t Miss” Television Event

Please join us in the Stivers Center in Arcadia on Saturday morning, March 22nd for a special “news broadcast” featuring recent successes and plans for the future of Kare Youth League. As a member of the “studio audience”, you will be inspired as you hear about boys and girls whose lives have been changed for the better by their experiences at Kare. This special one-hour broadcast will begin with a light breakfast and include performances by Kare members and an inspirational program highlighting the advantages and opportunities for Kare members.

There is no charge for the breakfast. However, opportunities for involvement and financial partnership will be highlighted. Many guests who wish to support Kare Youth League often make confidential, voluntary contributions or pledges that morning. (No minimum gift is expected, no pressure.) This event is especially planned for adults. Space is limited so please RSVP in the office as soon as possible. Attire for the breakfast is nice casual. Childcare can be provided for children five and older upon request. We look forward to seeing you there.

Please do not park in the street around any Kare Youth League facility.

Why Can’t I...

...Park in the streets around any Kare Youth League facility? Well, as you can imagine, the neighbors around our Kare facilities don’t like it much when their houses are surrounded by cars, especially on a Saturday when they have friends and relatives coming to visit and there is nowhere to park. We want to be good and responsible neighbors, so obey the parking signs, and park on the facility in the designated parking spots that have been lined off. Thanks for your cooperation.

The Old Man and the Gulls From Paul Harvey

About sunset it happened every Friday evening, on a lonely stretch along the eastern Florida seacoast. You could see an old man walking, white-haired, bushy eye-browed, slightly bent. One gnarled hand would be gripping the handle of a pail filled with shrimp. There, on a broken pier reddened by the setting sun, the weekly ritual would be re-enacted.

All at once, the silent twilight sky would become a mass of dancing dots...growing larger. In the distance, screeching calls would become louder. They were sea gulls, come from nowhere, on the same pilgrimage...to meet an old man.

For half an hour or so, the gentleman would stand on the pier, surrounded by fluttering white, until his pail of shrimp was empty. But the gulls would linger for a while. Perhaps one would perch comfortably on the old man’s hat.

Eventually, the old man’s days were past. If the gulls still return to that spot...perhaps on a Friday evening at sunset...it is not for food...but to pay homage to the secret they shared with a gentle stranger. And that secret is...the rest of the story.

In October of 1942 it was reported that Captain Eddie Rickenbacker was lost at sea. Captain Eddie’s mission had been to deliver a message of the utmost importance to General MacArthur. MacArthur was headquartered in New Guinea, and Rickenbacker was given a B-17 and a hand-picked crew to take him there. But there was an unexpected detour which would hurl Captain Eddie into the most harrowing adventure of his life.

Somewhere over the South Pacific the Flying Fortress became lost beyond the reach of radio. Fuel ran dangerously low, so the men ditched their plane in the ocean. (To be continued...)
