VOLUME 73, NUMBER 33 • MAY 19, 2014

COLUMN ONE

Troy Tulowitzki and Carlos Gonzalez will be in town with the Rockies on Monday, June 16. Sell 22 tickets and you can be there too. Last year we saw Yasiel Puig's first game as a Dodger. What will happen this year?

Unlimited Pass...It's Like You're Dreaming

One of the best prizes at the Circus is the unlimited pass on Friday and Saturday, but it won't just fall in your lap. J.G. Holland once said, "God gives every bird its food, but He does not throw it into its nest." So, it's time to leave the nest and start selling. Children who sell 28 tickets can play all the games they want and eat all the food they want without paying a cent. Even better, members who sell 47 tickets get to do it on both days. What an amazing prize! Here is a list of those who have earned it so far (list as of Friday, May 16):

Friday & Saturday Unlimited Pass

Kylie Montalvo	McKenna Joe	Matthew Joe
Krystal Arteaga	Colleen Drain	Jiraiya Preciado
Tyler Adams

Friday Unlimited Pass

CJ Marconi	Landry Johnson	Reagan Johnson
Devin Dunlap	Royal Young	Jordan Flores
Joey Marconi	Steven Ruiz	Jeannie Liang
Hunter Ong	Darcy Bolinger	Emily Guerrero
Zane Castilleja	Grace Adler	Amanda Garcia

The Missing Bullet from Paul Harvey

You want excitement? Visit the first-aid station at one of those big public functions...a county fair or something like that. Among the child patients you'll find the ones who got sick on the candy and even the ones about to be born. It gets pretty dramatic sometimes...like that time at the Pan-American Exposition in New York, when they brought in the victim of a shooting.

Fortunately for this fellow the first-aid station was a large one, sort of an emergency hospital. They even had an operating room. And the victim was going to need it. He had taken two bullets at close range. It was about four-thirty in the afternoon when the victim, conscious yet in severe shock, was taken inside and hoisted to the table. The first shot had grazed a rib and deflected. The second was taken in the stomach, and there was no exit wound. The bullet was still inside.

The doctors, realizing there was no time to waste, decided to operate. Anesthesia was administered. The patient did not count backward from one hundred. Instead he began, "Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed..." In moments he was under. An incision was made, the abdomen opened. Indeed the bullet had slashed right through the stomach. The lacerations were sutured but where was the bullet? It was as though it had vanished. The doctors really wanted to find that missing bullet, if only to trace its path. Yet this patient was weak and might not survive a prolonged probing. They closed him up and hoped for the best.

The patient was taken to a private residence to recuperate. He did not. A week later, he was dead. He had a few things going against him...overweight and nearly sixty. Mainly it was that wound, insufficiently cleansed and a bullet untraced. "If" is a big question here, but "if" the doctors had been able to locate and remove the missing bullet...the victim might have lived. (Find the rest of the story at kyl.org/missingbullet)
