

KARE YOUTH LEAGUE GAMES AND ACTIVITIES

Don't You Wish You Could Go?

Who here wishes they could go to Yellowstone and Mount Rushmore? What about Chicago, New York, or Washington D.C.? Take a swim in a cool river, eat dinner with an Amish family, or see a Broadway play? Well, if you are going on this year's Rio Hondo Prep summer tour you will do all that and more. Jr. high and high school girls from Rio Hondo Prep will be spending anywhere from 2 ½ to 5 weeks touring the country in our wonderful tour bus this June and July. The girls will be driving through the northwest to Chicago where some of the younger ones will then be flying back home. Those remaining will then go through Ohio, Boston, New York, and our nation's capital. They will finally fly home with memories that will last a lifetime. The jr. high and high school boys will be taking a similar trip next year. Start to plan now and it can be a reality for you.

This is just one of the many sights the girls will be taking in this summer.

Parents Want to Play Too

This summer in Upland (moms) and Arcadia (moms/dads), parents will get the chance to play a little volleyball in the evenings. Details are a little different for each facility so check in the office for more details.

Looking for a Summer Activity?

Are you looking for an activity during the summer? Miss Lindsay Parsons (Royal Friends coach) is teaching piano group classes starting the week of June 16th! To find out more go to Facebook at facebook.com/lindsayparsonspianostudio. To sign up before June 14th just email Lindsay at parsonslindsay@yahoo.com.

The College Baseball World Series is in Omaha, Nebraska.

The Road to Omaha

Every college baseball player wants to take a trip to Omaha, Nebraska this time of year for the College Baseball World Series. Well, an ambitious group of high school boys at Rio Hondo Prep want to do the same thing. A few months ago they began selling restaurant cards and working at baseball clinics to earn money for a trip to Omaha. Parents sold nachos at games and relatives donated money to the cause. Finally, last week, they reached their goal. On their way there they will be playing some ball games themselves against teams in Nevada, Colorado, and Utah. Good luck guys and make some memories!

COLUMN ONE

Bello Nock will appear on Good Morning America on Tuesday morning, June 3rd. Make sure you check it out.

It's Bello Time

The preparations have been made, the last tickets are being sold, and it is now time...Bello Time. Bello Nock will be walking across the Rose Bowl this Friday & Saturday, June 6 & 7 at all 5 shows. If you are thinking, "That sounds kind of big" well, you're correct, it is. Will there be media outlets there to cover it? Why, of course there will. Will you have wished you had told more people about it? The answer to that is, "Definitely". Don't miss out on this opportunity to tell just a few more people about the Kare Youth League Circus!

Cotton Candy...Get Your Cotton Candy Here!

One of the best things about a circus is all the great food you can find there, especially the items you don't normally have on a day to day basis, like cotton candy and caramel apples. Boys and girls from 4th grade on up get the opportunity to vend these kinds of items at the Circus, so make sure to ask your child's leader which show they are supposed to vend at. If another time works better, just let them know. Friday night is the best alternate.

The Remarkable Miss Neef *from Paul Harvey

Thomas van Beek was a twenty-five-year-old executive and he was in need of a private secretary. After a long, discouraging procession of unpromising applicants, a bright, charming young lady came to Tom's office. She was Miss Neef. Her references were impressive, her typing and shorthand were more than adequate. And beyond her obvious secretarial talent was the aura of personal stability Tom had been looking for. Miss Neef was hired on the spot.

After her first week on the job, Tom was certain that he had found the one and only solid-gold Girl Friday; she was an executive's dream. When she answered the phone, she projected polite authority. The quality of her voice alone let the caller know that he was in touch with an efficient operation. When, in the course of business, Miss Neef was faced with those minor emergencies, she was always calm and her solution to each problem was quick. Miss Neef was tireless.

At the end of a long day, when even her young employer was completely exhausted, Miss Neef was energetic, apparently as prepared to cope with her responsibilities in the afternoon as she had been in the morning before her traditionally brief lunch break. The weeks became months and the months, years. During the seasons of heavy business, Miss Neef did the work of two.

Then came 1973, and the day Tom had secretly dreaded for the past twelve years. It was not another job or a matter of money, Miss Neef was happy with both, she simply wished to retire. As Tom thought about the splendid job she had done, really more than anyone could have asked of one person, Tom was determined that his remarkable Miss Neef should have an appropriately generous retirement party. It was on this occasion that Tom learned the rest of the story. (Find the rest of the story at kyl.org/missneef)
