Breakfast with Santa

What Do You Get When You Mix...

...Santa with Elsa? The answer is a great time at Breakfast with Santa. This Saturday, December 13, Santa will be at Kare Youth League in Arcadia to greet children, take pictures (bring your own camera), and find out what everyone wants for Christmas. The breakfast is $7.00 per person and will be served from 8:00 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. in the Stivers Center. There will also be games and crafts. There will also be a "Frozen" box drawing. Tickets will be available for $5.00 each or $10.00 for three. In the box will be items like an Elsa doll, Anna doll, pull apart Olaf doll, "Frozen" tin box and watch, Olaf piggy bank, and so much more. Make sure to allow plenty of time for all the activities so you aren't in a hurry. It's going to be a morning you won't want to miss!

Living A Life as a Kare

At Kare Youth League we hope that our members, wherever life takes them, live their lives "karing" for others. Recently a Kare Youth League and Rio Hondo Prep alumni, Arcadia Police Officer, Wally Ashby, was honored on NBC's "The Challenge" for saving a young girl's life. Officer Ashby was off duty and discovered the girl in a pool. After diving in and pulling her out he was able to perform CPR to revive her. You can check out the story at http://www.nbclosangeles.com/on-air/as-seen-on/Challenge-Hero_-Officer-Walter-Ashby_Los-Angeles-283727621.html.

Rainy Days and Mondays Always Get Me Down

When it is raining during the week, it is tough to know whether things have been cancelled or not. Upland members can call 909-957-5273 to find out the latest information. Arcadia and Covina members can call 626-442-1160 after 12:30 in the afternoon. If activities have been cancelled, there will be a recorded message.

Something out of Nothing: Part 1 From Guidepost Magazine

I had graduated from pharmacy school in 1929, and after two years of working for others, I knew that my wife and I had to find our own store. My father had just died, and left a $3,000 legacy for me to work with. We were living in a city called Canova in the Midwest when we began our search. We decided to look for two things; a small town and a Catholic church. In Canova the nearest parish was 20 miles away and we wanted to be able to go to mass every day. We finally found a city that had both. When we talked to the priest, the doctor and the banker, they all told us that it was a good place with good people and that they wanted us to come live there.

My wife and I were excited, but when we got back home and told our family about the plan, we found them skeptical. "That town is in the middle of nowhere," a cousin said, "and furthermore, everybody there is flat broke busted." My father-in-law understood, but even he said, "You know, that city is just about as Godforsaken as you can get." We all decided to pray about the decision and ask for God's guidance. In the end everyone felt that it was God's will for us to go.

The first few months went by and business was horrible. "I don't mind being poor," my wife said, "but I wonder if we can use our talents to their fullest here." When she spoke of talents, my heart sank. My wife had a teaching degree and had taught literature in high school. Was I being fair, making her work in this place? But the next minute she said, "We shouldn't get down. I'm sure we can make this place work!" Her optimism lifted me. I said to her, "Five years, that's what I think we can give to this store. Five good years, and if it doesn't work by then, well, then we'll..." "Don't worry about then," my wife said. "We'll make it go."

We weren't starving, and we'd begun to make good friends. Our pastor had become a tower of strength, helping us keep our faith strong. We worked hard to serve our neighbors well. (continued next week)
