TAR HEELS SWEEP INTO FIRST PLACE

The Tar Heels claimed another victory last weekend against the mighty Wildcats, moving them into first place. Cole Armas launched the offensive attack with a sweet 9 yard kickoff return followed by Shaun Lewis, scoring on a power 22 up the middle for 25 yards. Caleb Cantu cruised through the heart of the Kentucky defense on the extra point giving the Heels a 7-0 lead. Matthew Guerrero then surprised the crowd with a kickoff blast into the endzone! Mehki Austin, Eric Rosales, Shaun Lewis and Matthew Guerrero stacked up the Kentucky offense on fourth and short as the Heels took over on downs. This time it was Rosales who took control of the payload and delivered it non stop into the endzone on a 11 yard sweep behind blocking buddies Max Alvarado and Jacob Ayala, who combined for over 16 key blocks on the day! Reilly Whitter delivered the pigskin into the hands of running back Lucas Walter on the extra point giving the Heels a solid 14-0 lead. The Heels continued to dominate on defense with Shaun Lewis (LB) leading the defensive battle with 5 tackles. Cantu and Rosales came up big with a couple great sacs and the Wildcats would once again turn the ball over on downs. Cole Armas didn't waste any time scoring from 4 yards out on a reverse around the left end. The extra point pass from Lucas to Max fell short, ending the first half.

The Wildcats came out ready to play in the second half, scoring on their first drive on second down. Guerrero, Austin & Bass denied the extra point with a huge stop. Mehki Austin then lit up the field as he blazed a trail down the right side of the field on a 25 yard run, only to be called back due to holding. But Austin still had a little juice left in the tank and cruised another 15 yards around the left end, giving the Heels great field position. Guerrero eventually crossed the goal line on an 18 yard run up the middle. The Heels looked to run a reverse-pass on the extra point attempt, but it fell short. Kentucky was down but not out and soon began marching down field. It was time for the little guys (Cantu, Whitter & Bass) to shine defensively as they rushed into the backfield holding the Wildcats and securing the 26-13 Tar Heel victory. Congratulations boys! This week we battle the Bulldogs. Good luck!!!
