COLUMN ONE

Forget About Black Friday and Cyber Monday

Thanksgiving Thursday is an amazing day to spend with family, remembering all the things to be thankful for this past year. The Friday after Thanksgiving, known as Black Friday, has become a day to search for bargains at stores like Walmart and Target. The Monday after is known as Cyber Monday because you are supposed to be able to find good deals on the internet (you need to know where to look to find them, though).

We hope you remember the day after that, “Giving Tuesday”, when folks all over the country will be giving to their favorite charities and also doing an act of kindness for someone else. Please plan to join Kare Youth League on Tuesday, November 29, as we take part in this nationwide event.

Remember to give locally and to a charity that is close to your heart. Help multiply your gift and share your cause by posting it on social media (#KareShare). Send a gift of any size to Kare Youth League by texting “TEAMMATE” to 41444 and follow the prompts. Let’s make Giving Tuesday a day to remember.

Basketball Practice Times May Change

Some teams will be changing practice times during the week for basketball. Make sure to check with your child’s coach to see if basketball will bring a change of time for your team.

RHP High School Information Night

Thursday, November 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Arcadia, Rio Hondo Prep will be hosting an information night for prospective high school students for next school year. If you are interested, please take this opportunity to come and check things out.

Who Were the Pilgrims?

Taken from Plymouth Plantation Website

The people we know as Pilgrims have become so surrounded by legend that we are tempted to forget that they were real people. Against great odds, they made the famous 1620 voyage aboard the ship Mayflower and founded Plymouth Colony. To understand them, it is important that we look beyond the legend. This story will help you get to know these people, now known as the Pilgrims, through their first years in New England.

England was a Roman Catholic nation until 1534, when King Henry VIII (reigned 1509-1547) declared himself head of a new national church called the Church of England. Although he and his daughter, Queen Elizabeth I (reigned 1558-1603), changed some things that made the Church of England different from the Roman Catholic Church, a few people felt that the new Church retained too many practices of the Roman Church. They called for a return to a simpler faith and less structured forms of worship. In short, they wanted to return to worshipping in the way the early Christians had. Because these people wanted to purify the church, they came to be known as “Puritans.” Another group, considered very radical, went even further. They thought the new Church of England was beyond reform. Called “Separatists,” they demanded the formation of new, separate church congregations. This opinion was very dangerous; in England in the 1600s, it was illegal to be part of any church other than the Church of England.

The original “Pilgrims” were part of this Separatist movement in England. Members included the young William Bradford and William Brewster. Like others who refused to follow the Church of England’s teachings, some of them were harassed, fined or even sent to jail. When they felt they could no longer suffer these difficulties in England, they chose to flee to the Dutch Netherlands. There, they could practice their own religion without fear of persecution.
