Fall 3-2-1 Sports Drawing Tickets

The Fall 3-2-1 Sports Drawing tickets are ready to go! There will be a first, second, and third place prize, and the drawing will take place on Saturday, October 14. This gives everyone plenty of time to sell and also gives more people a chance to win. Here are the quotas for this year:

Boys 1 st Grade – 40
Girls PK & K - 45
Boys 2 nd & 3 rd – 50
Girls 1 st & 2 nd - 50
Boys 4 th – 50
Girls 3 rd & 4 th - 60
Boys 5 th , 6 th , 7 th , and 8 th – 100
Girls 5 th & 6 th – 80

Just like the SoccerFest, the quotas are mandatory in every division. They are a vital source of income for each individual division. All the money earned by each division goes directly to that division.

Leo Castillo demonstrating the proper shoulder tackle in football. He has his head to the side and eyes up. He also is striking the runner at the thighs and squeezing the pad. Way to go, Leo!

Did You Say Football or Fútbol?

Saturday, September 30 will be an exciting day for Pre-K boys (who turned 4 by August 1st) and Kindergarten boys as they walk on the field, some for the first time, to take part in Kare Youth League's Great Start program opening day of soccer. Activities will be held at 11:00 a.m. at our Irwindale and Covina facilities and at 10:00 a.m. at our Upland facility. We ask that all Kare Youth League member families do two things:

- 1) Bring your son to sign-up if he is a Pre-K (who turned 4 by August 1st) or a Kindergarten.
- 2) Tell someone you know who has a boy this age about the program and invite them to come.

Was that a Brush Step or an À la Seconde?

The PK and Kindergarten girls began their tap and ballet classes last week but it is not too late to get started. The Royal Friends (the name for the program) in Covina and Irwindale come on Saturday from 9:00-10:30 in the morning. The Upland girls come on Friday from 4:30-6:00. If you know a girl who wants to be part of this special group give their director, Maura Drain, a call at (626) 442-1160 x442.

We Can Never Forget: A Story from 9-11 (Part 1) By Andy J. Semotiuk

Ron DiFrancesco was a Canadian working on a U.S. immigration work visa in the South Tower of the World Trade Center on 9/11. He was a manager at Euro Brokers' office on the 84th floor.

When the first plane hit the North Tower, the people in his office heard the crash and saw the flames and smoke emanating from that building. As the phones started ringing and people started asking Ron and the other employees there what happened, they surmised that a small plane had lost its way and accidentally hit the building. They could see that the flames from the crash were forcing people in the North Tower to flee. As news reports started coming in giving more accurate accounts of what was happening, Ron got a telephone call from his good friend in Canada telling him to get out of his building. He heeded the warning and made his way over to the elevators. Just then the second plane hit.

Ron says that the impact of the crash was so violent that the building swayed some seven or eight feet. He thought for the moment that the building would tip over but instead it simply swayed back the other way. After the building stopped swaying, Ron made his way to the staircase. Unlike in the North Tower where the plane came in level, in the case of the South Tower, the plane came in on an angle. In a sense that was fortuitous for Ron in that the right tip of the wing of the airplane plowed into the tower above the 84th floor although the body of the plane crashed into the building below it.

Ron quickly made his way to the staircase. Smoke was coming up the stairs from the lower floor. He tried to make his way down but people from lower floors were coming up to escape the fire below. So he turned around and tried to go up but that part was on fire as well. (The conclusion comes next week)
