COLUMN ONE

The Falcon AA's gettin' fired up for a game tying touchdown and extra point kick last Saturday against the Georgia Bulldogs.

Keep it Positive Folks

As a reminder to all our Kare Youth League family, the following Parent Code of Ethics is from the KYL Handbook and is an important guideline to the atmosphere that Kare wants to promote at the games for the good of everyone involved.

I will encourage good sportsmanship by demonstrating positive support for all players, leaders and officials at every game.

I will place the emotional and physical well-being of my child ahead of my personal desire to win.

I will support leaders and officials working with my child in order to encourage a positive and enjoyable experience for all.

I will refrain from the use of tobacco, alcohol, and profanity at all of my child's activities.

I will remember that during the game, I will remain in the bleachers or designated area for parents, and defer the coaching to the Kare Youth League staff.

I will remember that the game is for the children, not the adults.

The purpose of Kare activities is to focus on helping and training members. Any spectator or parental actions at an activity that the organization deems to be harmful or an unnecessary distraction from the purpose of the activity will be prohibited.

Winners and Winners

By Al Covino

The basketball game between New Rochelle and Yonkers was going to be close. New Rochelle was coached by Dan O'Brien, Yonkers by Les Beck, and I was officiating. The gym was crowded to capacity, and the volume of noise made it impossible to hear.

The game was well played and closely contested as expected. Yonkers was leading by one point as I glanced at the clock and discovered there were but 30 seconds left to play. Yonkers, in possession of the ball, passed off...shot...and missed. New Rochelle recovered, pushed the ball up court and shot. The ball rolled tantalizingly around the rim and off. The fans shrieked.

New Rochelle, the home team, recovered the ball, and tapped it in for what looked like victory. The tumult was deafening. I glanced at the clock and saw that the game was over. I hadn't heard the final buzzer because of the noise. I checked with the other official, but he could not help me.

Still seeking help in this bedlam, I approached the time-keeper, a young man of 17 or so. He said, "Mr. Covino, the buzzer went off as the ball rolled off the rim, before the final tap-in was made."

I was in the unenviable position of having to tell Coach O'Brien the sad news. "Dan," I said, "time ran out before the final basket was tapped in. Yonkers won the game."

His face clouded over. The young timekeeper came up. He said, "I'm sorry, Dad. The time ran out before the final basket."

Suddenly, like the sun coming out from behind a cloud, Coach O'Brien's face lit up. He said, "That's okay, Joe. You did what you had to do. I'm proud of you."

Turning to me, he said, "Al, I want you to meet my son, Joe."

The two of them then walked off the court together, the coach's arm around his son's shoulder.
