COLUMN ONE

Rio Hondo Prep (100 students) defeated Azusa (1,400 students) 42-22 last Friday in the opening round of the CIF football playoffs. This week they will travel to face Orange High School (2,000 students) for a spot in the final four.

A Day to Remember

We hope you remember the Tuesday after Thanksgiving is “Giving Tuesday”, when folks all over the country will be giving to their favorite charities. Please plan to join Kare Youth League on Tuesday, November 28, as we take part in this nationwide event.

Send a gift of any size by texting “TEAMMATE” to 41444 and following the prompts. Let’s make Giving Tuesday a day to remember (for those counting at home, that’s three “remembers” in one article, but you don’t have to remember that part).

Bring a Friend...Get an Ice Cream

Thanksgiving week there are no Kare activities (ahhhh...) but the week after...it’s going to be GREAT! Why is that, you ask? Well, the week after Thanksgiving is “Bring a friend week” at Kare Youth League. Anyone who brings a friend will get an ice cream (and their friend gets one, too). Just make sure to have your friend fill out the proper forms so they can take part in all the activities.

Ordinary to Extraordinary: Part 1

By Interleaguer Staff

Adolph Kaminsky was just an ordinary boy but his life was far from ordinary. Adolph was a Jew growing up in Argentina until his family moved to Paris, France when he was seven years old. The entire family was allowed to enter France because of their Argentine passports (this becomes extremely important in a few years). At the age of 13, Adolph had to drop out of school to help support his struggling family. He picked up work as a “clothes dryer” in a dry cleaner shop. He spent his time figuring out how to remove tough stains, reading chemistry books, and testing theories in experiments at home. On weekends he would even help a chemist at a dairy in exchange for milk, cheese, and butter. Then came World War II, the Nazis, and fear for his life.

In the summer of 1943 his family was arrested and sent to a camp outside of Paris. The Argentine government found out and, because of their passports, protested, helping them to stay in detention for three months instead of being shipped off to the death camps. Eventually, the family was freed, but they still did not feel safe. Adolph’s father arranged to get false documents made by a French resistance group. When Adolph was sent to pick up the papers, he was told about some problems that the group was having with the ink.

Adolph was familiar with this problem from his days working at the dairy with the chemist. He suggested using lactic acid to help remove the original ink from the document. His idea was so successful that the group asked him to join them. Adolph sent his family to safety and stayed on to help the resisters. This decision changed his life forever.
