What a Crazy/Genius Idea!

Only Kare Youth League would come up with a crazy idea like this (crazy genius, that is). On Saturday, April 28th, instead of playing soccer in the Rose Bowl, in honor of the upcoming Olympics, Kare Youth League children will be competing in “Olympic” type events in one of the most iconic stadiums on the planet, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. Tickets for the event will be coming out the weekend of February 24th. Each member will have a quota of tickets to sell (The quota is mandatory and members will not be able to participate in any Kare Youth League activities beginning on Wednesday, April 25th if the money is not in). One of the easiest ways to meet your quota is to have a business become a team sponsor for the event. Groups that get a team sponsor will receive special jerseys to wear during baseball/softball season and at the event. The member that gets a team sponsor to sign up also receives lots of great stuff like free food at the event, movie tickets, and a whole lot of other great prizes. Keep watching the Interleaguer for more information.

Fred the Postman

From Mark Sanborn’s “The Fred Factor”

I first met Fred just after purchasing what I called a “new” old house. Built in 1928, the house was the first I’d owned and was located in a beautiful tree-lined area of Denver called Washington Park. Just days after I moved in, I heard a knock on my front door. When I opened it I saw a mailman standing on my porch.

“Good morning, Mr. Sanborn!” he said cheerfully. “My name is Fred, and I’m your postal carrier. I just stopped by to introduce myself and to welcome you to the neighborhood.

Fred was an ordinary-looking fellow of average height and build with a small mustache. While his physical appearance didn’t convey anything out of the ordinary, his sincerity and warmth were noticeable immediately.

I was a bit startled. Like most of us, I had been receiving mail for years, but I had never had this kind of personal encounter with my postal carrier. I was impressed – nice touch.

“I’m a professional speaker. I don’t have a real job,” I replied jokingly.

“If you’re a professional speaker, you must travel a lot,” said Fred.

“Yes, I do. I travel anywhere from 160 to 200 days a year.”

Nodding, Fred went on. “Well, if you’ll just give me a copy your schedule, I’ll hold your mail and bundle it. I’ll only deliver it on the days that you are at home to receive it.”

I was amazed by Fred’s conscientious offer, but I told him that such extra effort probably wasn’t necessary. “Why don’t you just leave the mail in the box on the side of the house?” I suggested. “I’ll pick it up when I come back into town.”

Fred frowned and shook his head. “Mr. Sanborn, burglars often watch for mail building up in a box. That tells them you’re out of town. You might become the victim of a break-in.” Fred was more worried about my mail than I was! But it made sense; he was the postal professional.
