COLUMN ONE

The Rio Hondo Prep Homecoming will be a mystery that's going to be a lot of fun to solve.

Scooby-Dooby-Do Where Are You?

We got some work to do now. Friday night will be a big night at Kare Park. The Rio Hondo Prep football game will be an important contest against Prep League foe Vasquez High School. The halftime will be a mystery that we will all try to solve together as Scooby and the gang tries to figure out who will be this year's Queen. All the girls of Kare Youth League will be part of the festivities and a taco dinner will also be served. The dinner will begin serving at 5:30 p.m. and kickoff will be at 7:00 p.m.

And the Winner Is...

The drawing for the Apple Ipad took place last week and the winner was Mike Hernandez of El Monte. Congratulations!

If you want another chance to win you can go into any Kare office, pay $5.00, and pick up a book of 11 $5.00 tickets. You can sell the tickets and use all the money you earn to help cover the price of your membership fee. Make sure to turn in the stubs so that you get a chance at redemption.

Kickers Know Best

Uncommon Life by Tony Dungy

During my career as a player and a coach, I worked with some of the best kickers in the National Football League – guys like Adam Vinatieri, Mike Vanderjagt, Michael Husted, and Martin Gramatica. One of the things they all had in common was the ability to focus on the positive. They always believed they were going to make the next kick. The really successful kickers are able to envision the ball splitting the uprights, dead center. They know from experience that negative thoughts doom their efforts.

Since a lot of a kicker's time is spent on the sideline waiting, each of them has a different technique to help maintain his focus until the crucial moment he is called onto the field. Some talk about other things with their coaches or teammates. Some kickers sit by themselves and relax. Some focus on the goalposts at the far end of the field that present a much narrower target, so that when they line up facing the goalposts that are their actual target, they appear much wider and inviting. Others pray.

Essentially, these kickers do what the apostle Paul suggests we do in Philippians 4:8 – whatever setting we find ourselves: focus on the positive; fix our thoughts on things that are good and right and pure. On the field or in our homes or at work, when we think of our spouses, our children, friends, employees, or coworkers – we should fix our thoughts on what is true, and honorable, and right, and pure, and lovely, and admirable. We should think about things that are excellent and worthy of praise.

Adopting a positive attitude, even when you're under pressure or the odds seem stacked against you, nearly always assures a positive outcome. And thinking of people in a positive light changes how you treat them.
