COLUMN ONE

Excitement is building for the first big event of the 2019-20 Kare sport season with the Royal Friends and D3 girls performing at the Rio Hondo Prep Homecoming game on Friday, October 4.

What if it Rains?

The best way to keep up on the latest involving cancellations due to inclement weather is to sign up for Team App. Information will be posted the second a decision is made.

In February many Kare Youth League teams will have the opportunity to travel to Mount Kare in Wrightwood for Winter Camp. Be on the lookout for these "Survival Huts" built by this year's senior class. Don't worry; you won't have to actually use them. The sleeping and dining accommodations are first rate.

Preparation Determines Your Survival

By Louis Zamperini

Life on earth is dangerous: You should be prepared for anything. As adults we sometimes encounter circumstances with potentially grave consequences that we can't anticipate. It can seem overwhelming. But each circumstance can usually be broken into smaller, more manageable challenges that we might already be prepared to deal with.

For example, I was in a plane crash at sea during the war. I couldn't do anything about that. I could have died. Instead, I lived. Now what? Rather than try to take on the whole predicament at once, I broke it down to smaller tasks that used the various survival skills I'd already learned: first aid, obtaining food, knowing not to drink salt water, maintaining a positive attitude, and keeping my mind active. I followed my training, a step at a time. I didn't freak out.

You may feel, in your busy life, that learning survival skills will require too much time that you don't have. Maybe you figure you'll never need them. But you only have one life. You should never be too busy to save it.

Education is the mainstay of being prepared. Every high school should have a survival course. Just one class is all you need.

Rio Hondo Prep Seniors have been experiencing a week-long "Survival Camp" up at Mount Kare for quite some time now.
