VOLUME 79, NUMBER 8 • OCTOBER 14, 2019

COLUMN ONE

One last shot from the homecoming performance of the Royal Friends (because, well, they are pretty cute).

Basketball in November (Repeat Article)

It's never too early to plan ahead for the next season at Kare Youth League. When fall activities conclude, basketball will begin in full force. The C Division will be moving practices from Tuesday to Thursday in basketball and the Pac 12 will move their Wednesday practice to Thursday as well.

Any member who knows someone who might be interested in Kare Youth League should let them know that there is no time like the present to sign up for basketball. Get them to secure their place on the team this October.

Flag Football Division Standings

Below you can find the Standings for the C and AB Flag Football Divisions. Standings for all Divisions can be found at our website kyl.org under links.

Sixteen Year Old Saves the Day:
Part Two

Lewiston History Mysteries

Homan Walsh flew his kite all day and into the night. But the winds died down and the kite plummeted into the rocks and ice below, breaking the string.

He was stranded on the Canadian side for 8 days because an ice buildup prevented the ferry from operating, so he stayed with some friends, losing valuable time while the other contestants continued to fly their kites. Homan finally made it back to the U.S. to retrieve his kite at the bottom of the American gorge and made repairs. Soon, the "Union" was as good as new and Homan quickly made the trip back to the Canadian side to try again.

On January 31, 1848, Homan successfully flew his kite across the 800-foot wide chasm to the American side where it got caught in a tree. He had won the contest and the $10.00 prize.

The day after Homan's victorious effort, a stronger line was attached to the kite string. Afterwards, a thicker rope was attached and then a metal cable. Homan's string eventually turned into an entire bridge!

Perseverance can pay off. You just have to keep on trying.
