INTERLEAGUER

VOLUME 80, NUMBER 6 • APRIL 19, 2021

COLUMN ONE

Our spring sports are starting to wind down but summer is right around the corner with all new sports for each division. Pictured is James Vasquez of the Steelers. Lookin' sharp in the camo under jersey.

Summer Sports Beginning in May

Spring sports are concluding in May but that doesn't mean it is time to stop playing. At Kare Youth League, we just keep movin' on. Girl's teams will soon begin playing softball and soccer (depending on age) in Covina and Irwindale and boy's teams will be playing basketball and soccer (depending on age). In Upland all teams will be competing in basketball. It's going to be a great summer. For sports information go to kyl.org on the front page.

The Almost-Midshipman: Part 2 from Paul Harvey and "The Rest of the Story"

Time passes and the boy is now standing before his mother in a dashing midshipman's uniform. He is bidding her farewell. His belongings are already aboard ship, and the vessel is ready to sail. "Good-bye", he tells his mother. He will miss her.

That's when it happened. In an unexpected and uncharacteristic outpouring of emotion, mother began to sob. This woman, who had already endured so much heartache, now refused to endure any more. Her son must not board that ship. He must not go into the Navy. He must stay and be strong for the rest of his family...especially for her.

Big brother was there, trying to persuade Mother of the Navy's virtues. The teen-ager in the midshipman's uniform was silent for a long while. Then he spoke:

He did so want a Navy career for himself...but not if it meant bearing the memory of his mother's grief. Much as it disappointed him, he would return his uniform and order his belongings ashore.

Of all the young men who might have left home in search of adventure and did not...of this world's many almost-midshipmen...the boy you have just met was just one more. Yet how might any other decision, on his behalf, have affected the Revolutionary War?

We owe a mother's eleventh-hour anxiety...for preventing one young man from ascending through the ranks of the British Navy...a boy of fifteen, handsomely clad, bags packed and on board, prepared to embark on quite a different adventure than that for which you remember him...this boy of fifteen. His name...George Washington.

Next time you make a decision that affects others, ask yourself, "Am I putting my own wants and wishes ahead of someone else?" Thankfully for us, George decided to put his mother's wishes first. What kind of a difference can we make if we do the same?
