INTERLEAGUER

VOLUME 81, NUMBER 12 • NOVEMBER 15, 2021

COLUMN ONE

A Gift of Kare

We at Kare Youth League strive to keep our fees affordable for the average family, but that fee is still too high for some. Twenty percent of Kare Youth League members require assistance to continue in the Kare program. For the cost of one “Venti Café Mocha,” you could make a difference. Please consider donating $4.60 per month (or $13.75 per sport) to KYL’s child scholarship program. With the help of donors like you, we can fully fund and continue our scholarship program at your child’s KYL Center (Irwindale, Covina, or Upland). Please check in the office for details and sign up today!

Basketball Starting at Kare Youth League

With the end of the fall sport season comes basketball action at Kare Youth League. Please remember these important tips:

- 1) It is important to have good shoes that are not slippery on the bottom. It might be time to get some new ones for top performance.
- 2) The membership fee for basketball is due right now so please take care of that today.
- 3) If you know someone who is interested in joining Kare now is the best time to sign up.
- 4) Practice times/days may change for some Kare teams. Check with your child’s leader to double check the practice schedule.
- 5) Kare Youth League takes the entire Thanksgiving week off. We will start back again the week after Thanksgiving.
- 6) We will continue to have activities in Arcadia, Covina, Irwindale, and Upland. The address of each location can be found at the bottom of the Interleaguer each week.

Santa’s Breakfast

After a year off for Covid, Santa will be making his return to Kare Youth League in Arcadia on the morning of Saturday, December 11th. Keep this date open. Basketball games will be scheduled differently on that day so everyone can attend. The morning will include a great breakfast (of course) but there will also be plenty of games and activities for everyone.

Something out of Nothing: Part 1 From Guidepost Magazine

I had graduated from pharmacy school in 1929, and after two years of working for others, I knew that my wife and I had to find our own store. My father had just died, and left a $3,000 legacy for me to work with. We were living in a city called Canova in the Midwest when we began our search. We decided to look for two things; a small town and a Catholic church. In Canova the nearest parish was 20 miles away and we wanted to be able to go to mass every day. We finally found a city that had both. When we talked to the priest, the doctor and the banker, they all told us that it was a good place with good people and that they wanted us to come live there.

My wife and I were excited, but when we got back home and told our family about the plan, we found them skeptical. “That town is in the middle of nowhere,” a cousin said, “and furthermore, everybody there is flat broke busted.” My father-in-law understood, but even he said, “You know, that city is just about as Godforsaken as you can get.” We all decided to pray about the decision and ask for God’s guidance. In the end everyone felt that it was God’s will for us to go.

The first few months went by and business was horrible. “I don’t mind being poor,” my wife said, “but I wonder if we can use our talents to their fullest here.” When she spoke of talents, my heart sank. My wife had a teaching degree and had taught literature in high school. Was I being fair, making her work in this place? But the next minute she said, “We shouldn’t get down. I’m sure we can make this place work!” Her optimism lifted me. I said to her, “Five years, that’s what I think we can give to this store. Five good years, and if it doesn’t work by then, well, then we’ll...” “Don’t worry about then,” my wife said. “We’ll make it go.”

We weren’t starving, and we’d begun to make good friends. Our pastor had become a tower of strength, helping us keep our faith strong. We worked hard to serve our neighbors well. (continued next week)
